Hi Wendy,

Neel should be getting a letter to you soon regarding the DI-2 well.

We are going to remove the 5.5 inch tubing and rerun a CBL log. We should see some improvement here since it has been expanding and curing for several months.

Exact timing is not known because we are pre-ordering some extra tubing (we assume some threaded ends will be damaged when we pull), but I would think we will be ready in about 30 days.
